Merrick Rosenberg on CN-8 “Money Matters” Show Discussing Bullying, Motivation, and Clashing Office Personalities--May 16 & 17

Cherry Hill, NJ – May 8, 2006 – Merrick Rosenberg, Chief Learning Officer and co-owner of global training and development firm Team Builders Plus in Cherry Hill, will be featured on CN8’s “Money Matters” show hosted by Mary Caraccioli between 8:00 and 8:30 p.m., Tuesday, May 16, along with Robin Bond, a workplace legal expert, who is president and founder of Transition Strategies, LLC. The show will re-air between 8:00 and 8:30 a.m., May 17, and can also be viewed online at those times at www.cn8.tv.

The show’s topics will include office bullying, motivating employees, and “how we click with some and clank with others” in the workplace, all issues on which Rosenberg has counseled corporate leaders and employees, and written local and national articles. Rosenberg, an MBA graduate of Drexel University, was recently tapped as one of a select group of Human Resource panelists for the Courier-Post. He’s also one of SJ Magazine’s former “People to Watch.”

The upcoming TV show is the second time in less than two months that an employee of Team Builders Plus has been invited to appear on the CN8 “Money Matters” program. On March 22, Ken Blackwell, the firm’s Senior Executive Consultant, was one of three guests interviewed about appropriate use of e-mail in the workplace.

The firm is in its 15th anniversary year conducting individual, team and organizational assessments, performance coaching, team building, and leadership training for organizations worldwide. Over 25 percent of the new list of Fortune 100 companies are clients of Team Builders Plus. Other clients have included General Electric Company, Campbell Soup Company, JP Morgan Chase & Co., L’Oreal, GlaxoSmithKline, Ford Motor Company, and the U.S. Army and Air Force. For more information on leadership development, assessment tools, training programs or coaching processes, log on to www.TeamBuildersPlus.com or call 856-596-4196.

Rosenberg, who resides in Marlton, with his wife and two sons, is a black belt in Karate. He has been teaching Karate classes in Cherry Hill with his wife Traci, a fellow black belt, for over 15 years.
