Training Consultant Rich Kolodgie Joins Team Builders Plus

Cherry Hill, NJ - March, 2006 – Global business, training and development firm Team Builders Plus has hired industry veteran Rich Kolodgie as senior consultant. In this capacity, Kolodgie will conduct individual, team and organizational assessments. He will also facilitate training processes, and coach and consult with companies worldwide, to strengthen communication, leadership skills, and hence, performance.

According to Merrick Rosenberg, Team Builders Plus partner and director of training & development, “Rich is an ideal addition to our growing team of consultants.” Kolodgie has 18 years of direct experience in the field of training and development, in which he has coached presidents and senior executives, and led training programs for thousands of employees at all organizational levels throughout the world. These programs have encompassed the topics of: negotiating skills, financial management, and interpersonal skills, helping individuals and organizations understand who they are, and how to achieve maximum results.

In all, Kolodgie has more than 30 years of diversified corporate management experience in human resources, finance and strategic business operations, with RCTaylor & Associates, the Forum Corporation, and the DuPont Company, at which he was employed for 20 years.

Kolodgie earned his BS degree in Business Administration from Bucknell University and an MBA degree from Temple University. He has taught financial, strategic planning and management courses at Immaculata University, Drexel University and the University of Delaware, and is an active member of the American Society of Training and Development and the Society of Human Resources Management. Kolodgie also served as Executive Director of the Executive Human Resources Forum (EHRF), a network of top human resource personnel in the greater Philadelphia/Wilmington area who meet regularly to benchmark and improve on human resource strategy and business performance.

Kolodgie resides in Wilmington, De, with his wife and two children, where he serves on the Board of Operation Smile and is past president of the Caesar Rodney Rotary Club.
